Exhibited in such venues as the Allied Artist Show (at the Arts Club in New York City), the New England Watercolor Society North American Open, the Armenian Museum of America (Watertown, MA), the Manheim Gallery in Cottonwood Sedona, Arizona, and the Massachusetts State House (April 10th - April 17th 2017). Mary received her education from the Layton School of Art (part of Marquette University) in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She has been listed in Marquis Who's Who in the World since 2000. For many years she has been working with special need clients helping them reach their full potential through art.

About her work she says "I work by creating a mood or a story; perhaps a flash of light streaking through glass. There might be a scene such as a momentary sunburst on a cold winter's day or a quirk or twist from a dramatic model's repertoire. Art affects us in many ways. Sometimes it makes us sad, or it can happily transport us for a while. For me, art has great meaning and is inspirational".
