

Janet Laird-Lagasse

Janet Laird-Lagasse is an artist working in watercolor and egg tempera, creating realist images in full size and in fine art miniature. Her realist, representational images are about visual energies, exploring the parameters of reality and illusion. Primarily a studio painter, her work centers on several recurring themes. Laird holds signature membership in American Watercolor Society (AWS); New England Watercolor Society (NEWS); Miniature Artists of America (MAA); North East Watercolor Society (NEWS); and Watercolor West (WW). She is an Allied Artists of America elected member, Watercolor USA Honor Society member, an Academic Artists Association Juried Member; a Miniature Painters, Sculptors, & Gravers Society of Washington, DC Juried Member; World Federation of Miniaturists Charter Member; and a Miniature Art Society of Florida member. Laird is represented by Bayview Gallery, Brunswick and Camden, ME, at www.bayviewgallery.com.
