

Bill Lane

Over 20 years ago I started watercolor painting with Kaye O'Connell at the Attleboro Arts Museum. However, running my own graphic design studio pulls me in lots of different directions, mostly away from watercolor painting as dictated by my clients... who pay the bills.

Fall of 2008 opened up a new level of watercolor painting as I was accepted as a Signature Artist Member at the Rhode Island Watercolor Society... and soon after a Signature Artist Member of the New England Watercolor Society. I was also inducted as a full-artist member of the Copley Society of art in Boston.
